

Kaikoura's Biodiversity Bonanza!!

Do you want to know what funding opportunities are available?

Keen to chat to someone about QEII covenants?

Want to know how to bring the birds into your backyard?

Which nursery for locally sourced native plants?

What's the story with the permanent forest sink initiative and the likes?

then this event is for you!

The aim of the event is to:

- (a) raise awareness of biodiversity in the Kaikoura area;
- (b) provide a 'one-stop shop', with an array of resources and services for enhancing biodiversity for the urban backyard to the large station.

We will also be showcasing some of the excellent biodiversity work happening locally, with our neighbours north and south and also in the marine environment.

Make a weekend of it - why not?!

We want to encourage people to come and enjoy the biodiversity experience for the weekend - there will be interesting and topical talks/field trips and other things to entice you!!

Come and have a few days away.

If you live here already, then its even easier!!

Friday 27th March
9am - 4pm

At Kaikoura's Memorial Hall
and surrounding greens
